

RECONFERENCE 2021

CALL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE 2021 RECONFERENCE!

After the success of the 2018 ReConference, and a lot of public demand, we are delighted to announce the return of our multidisciplinary event focused on Living history and Re-enactmen. During the 5th to 7th of November 2021, Hands on History together with Ratobor and EXARC will once again be providing a platform for all those involved in this fascinating approach to connecting the past and present. So grab your books, dig out your notes and put your thinking hats on – because we need your help!

You will have the opportunity to be part of this unique event by contributing your skills, knowledge and time. Since the Re-conference will be a multi-sensory event, we are not looking just for keynote speakers and papers, but also for crafters, actors, jugglers, philosophers, or anyone else working with Living history and/or Re-enactment, who would be willing to organize a workshop, lecture or any other activity.

RECONFERENCE 2021

This might sound vague, because we are counting on your creativity to fill in the blanks. Whether it is a unique way of teaching the aerodynamics of axes, medieval facial expressions as a gateway to wood carving for toddlers, or anything else. If you feel that your practical approach to disseminating cultural heritage needs to be shared, we would like to hear about it and offer you an opportunity to present it on a multidisciplinary, international stage!

We only ask that your contribution fits within the time frame of maximum one hour, corresponds to the theme of Re-enactment and Living history, and you know how to get the needed equipment. Should you be interested in holding a 50-minute lecture on a topic of your specialization as one of our key speakers, then you are more than welcome to tell us about it as well.

So, drop what you're doing (unless it's fragile) and write us an e-mail at contact@handsonhistory.no. After the closing deadline of 30th of April we will review all submissions and get back to you shortly. The 2021 Re-conference is your chance to build the future of the past with those who live it.

*Yours historically,
The Hands on History Team*

EXARC.net