
Issue 2019/2

<https://exarc.net/issue-2019-2>

Reviewed

De Re Cervisia et Mulso, "on The Subject of Beer and Mulsum"
| Matt Gibbs

Experimental Bonfirings of Pottery with Camel Dung Fuel, Jordan, July 2018
| Maria Louise Sidoroff

Skills Shortage: A Critical Evaluation of the Use of Human Participants in Early Spear Experiments
| Annemieke Milks

Going Underground: An Experimental Archaeological Investigation of an Early Medieval Irish Souterrain
| Tom Meharg

Wives, Queens, Goddesses: Reconstructing the Outfit of a 8th-7th Century BC Picenian Woman
| Mauro Fiorentini

Popularisation of Experimental Archaeology in the Activity of Harjis - Project under the Patronage of the Institute of Archaeology of the University of Lodz (PL)
| Katarzyna Badowska and Wojciech Rutkowski

Experience and Discovery: Engaging the Public in Research. A Survey on Experimental Archaeology Contemporary Practice and Meaning – Preliminary Results
| Lara Comis

A Preliminary Attempt to Reconstruct some Tools and Techniques of Ornamentation of the Comb-Pit Ware from the Site of Hepojarvi (Karelian Isthmus, Leningrad Oblast, Russia)
| Alexander Akulov

Taking Archaeological Concepts outside the Social Science Class in Indian Schools
| Smriti Haricharan

Have you got the tine? Prehistoric Methods in Antler Working
| Andy Langley and Izzy Wisher

The Mother of All Bead Furnaces: Testing a Hypothesis about a Natural Draft Bead Furnace
| Neil Peterson

How to Make a Medieval Town Come Alive – the Use of Volunteers in Living History
| Pia Bach and Thit Birk Petersen

Unreviewed Mixed Matters

EXARC at the Times and Epochs Festival, Moscow, Russia
| E. Giovanna Fregni

Open-Air Museums in Denmark – a Fieldtrip
| Roeland P Paardekooper

Book Review: Crafting in the World, Materiality in the Making by Burke and Spencer-Wood
| Linda Anderson

CRAFTER: Back to Bronze Age Craftsmanship: International Meeting of Potters and Archaeologists
| Ágnes Király

Review: EASTS 2018 – 1st Experimental Archaeology Student Symposium, Newcastle Upon
Tyne
| Marco Romeo Pitone

Interview: JAPKE – The Female Viking Power-house of Lejre
| Christine Sonne-Jensen

Book Review: A Handbook for Men's Clothing of the Late 15th Century by Anna Malmberg &
Willhelm Schütz
| Jens Börner

Conference Review: Hands on History ReConference, 2-4 November 2018
| Helen Bowstead Stallybrass

CRAFTER: Re-creating Vatin Pottery 2: an Examination of Clay Quality and its Behaviour
| Vesna Vučković and Dejan Jovanović

Book Review: Experimental Archaeology: from Research to Society, by Isabel Cáceres et al.
| Patrícia Machado

CRAFTER: An Experimental Approach to Fire-Induced Alteration of Pottery Fabrics
| Carlos Velasco Felipe, José María Bellón and Bartolomé Bellón