

EXARC Conference

“Live interpretation in open-air venues”

at Csiki Pihenőkert (HU)

Thursday, 5 September, 2013 to
Sunday, 8 September, 2013

Methodologies for living history, live interpretation and education. Live interpretation has made impressive developments over the recent years. Open-air venues are an important setting for groups and professional individuals working with living history, museum theatre, museum education and other types of interpretation. With EXARCs recent broadening of its themes we welcome everybody interested in live interpretation in open-air venues to join us for this conference. EXARC Members as well as non-Members are equally welcomed.
